Dear parents

We trust you and your family are safe and keeping good health.

The Covid 19 pandemic has affected people all over the world in unthinkable ways. The education system has undergone a considerable change and online classes have been introduced in schools to ensure the academic progress of our children does in no way get hampered. We are happy at the enthusiastic response we have received from you and the effortless transition our children have made to this new digital system of teaching- learning process.

The children at the primary level need extra care and personal attention. Both the teachers and the parents have a crucial role to play in orienting the children to this new style of learning. This calls for a pro active coordination between the teachers and the parents. Our teachers are well equipped to transact the content effectively in this stipulated time . We look forward to you playing a bigger role once the screen is turned off. Every Kendriya Vidyalaya has an email id, exclusively for online counselling. You can reach out to the teachers, discuss with them the lessons, get ideas on how to make learning joyous and how to organise activities that make learning both conceptual and fun. Let us have a stronger parent - teacher network in order to help our children learn effectively.

You must be aware that NCERT has developed an alternative academic calendar for maintaining the continuity of learning. Let us explore this well researched document which aims at facilitating learning at home through innovative and interesting activities.

Moreover, dear parents, you would agree that education is not merely confined to textbooks and syllabus. There is a wide gamut of wisdom waiting to be discovered by our children beyond the pages of their books. We are sure you would spend quality time with the precious little ones, talk to them about your experiences of life, narrate to them stories, indulge them in simple yogic exercises, inspire them to pursue their hobbies of drawing, painting, reading and singing, etc., listen to them with compassion and join them in their wild creative pursuits.

We look forward to your co-operation in this regard. Stay safe, healthy and happy.
